Any participant who does not wear their race number in a visible and correct manner will be removed from the course by members of the organisation or by law enforcement officers.
- At the entrance to the start area, finish line or restricted areas, riders must wear the accreditation wristband provided in their rider pack. The wristband is personal and non-transferable, and will be fitted by the organisers in such a way that it cannot be removed. If a participant breaks, cuts or tampers with the wristband, they will not be allowed to take part in the event and will not be issued with a replacement; security staff will check wristbands at the event entrances. At the entrance to the start area, officials will check that race numbers, timing chips and competition equipment are correctly in place; anyone failing to comply with these rules may be prevented from taking part.
- When collecting their race number, participants will be responsible for checking that all items purchased in addition to the entry fee (such as VIP wristbands, merchandise, etc.) are correctly included in their rider pack. No claims will be accepted once they have left the registration area.

1.7. Right of admission

The organisers reserve the right to prevent participants from starting the race or to exclude them before or during the event if they have been sanctioned for doping by the UCI, any other national federation or the relevant competent bodies.

Participants who find themselves in these circumstances and are excluded will forfeit all rights associated with their registration.

The organisers reserve the right to refuse entry to the event. The organisers also reserve the right to expel participants who act in breach of these regulations, fail to follow the instructions of the organisation staff or who behave in a manner that is inappropriate, dangerous, unsportsmanlike or likely to damage the reputation of the event.

Likewise, the organisers may refuse participation in the race to any cyclists who have exhibited similar behaviour at other competitions.

1.8. Security measures

- No participant may go beyond the red flag.
- During the race, anyone who is unable to keep up with the pace set and is overtaken by the green flag will be out of the race; they must therefore slow down and ride with caution, without obstructing other road users, while complying with traffic regulations and signs.

All participants are advised:

- The event is an international cycle race.
- To keep to the right and not encroach on the carriageway for oncoming traffic.

- The mountain passes feature long descents with dangerous bends, so extreme caution is required on these sections.
- The routes are signposted by the organisers.
- Do not throw anything on the ground; please use the bins and waste bins provided at the refreshment stations. Keep items in your pocket during the route until you reach the refreshment station or the finish line. Look after, protect and respect nature and the environment.
- All participants who drop out of the race must remember that they are riding on public roads open to traffic and must obey all traffic regulations and signs, just like any other road user.
- Riders must comply with the instructions of the officers of the Civil Guard Traffic Unit at all times.

1.9. Traffic regulations

They must also follow instructions given by the Civil Guard, the Local Police and the event organisers at all times. Anyone failing to comply with instructions given by law enforcement officers will be removed from the race. By accepting these regulations, all participants agree to comply with the rules set out herein and to ensure their own safety and that of other participants and road users.

By registering for the race, participants acknowledge that they accept the risks inherent to taking part in an event open to traffic and release the event organisers from all and any liability for any incident or accident arising from their participation.

It is strictly forbidden for anyone not registered for the Gran Fondo La Nucía to enter the Start/Finish area.

2. QUALIFICATIONS AND PRIZES

2.1. UCI QUALIFIER CATEGORY (GFWS Qualifier – 2027 Gran Fondo World Championships)

The UCI Gran Fondo World Series La Nucía is a qualifier event for the 2027 UCI Gran Fondo World Championships. Based on the results of each race, the top 25% cyclists in each age group will qualify for said championships. This 25% will be calculated based on the number of participants starting in each age group, rather than the number of cyclists who complete the race.

The top three male and female riders in each age group will also qualify directly for the UCI Gran Fondo World Championships, regardless of the number of participants starting in that group. To qualify, riders must complete the race.

Participants who have qualified for the UCI Gran Fondo World Championships will be listed on the UCI's official website and will receive an email from the UCI itself, inviting them to take part and to complete their registration directly on the UCI's website.

PRIZES:

A finisher's medal will be awarded to each participant when they cross the finish line. The item will not be sent by post at a later date.

Every rider who finishes in the top 25% of qualified riders in their respective age group [based on the number of riders who started the race] will receive a UCI medal certifying their qualification. The medal will be presented in the marquee set up for this purpose as the results are officially confirmed.

The top three finishers in both the men's and women's categories for each distance (Long Distance and Middle Distance), as per the overall results, must attend the official trophy ceremony to collect their prizes and, where applicable, the corresponding gifts. Trophies and prizes not collected during the ceremony will not be sent by post at a later date.

2.2. OPEN CATEGORY (Non-qualifier UCI)

Participants registered in the OPEN category will not feature in the official rankings of the UCI Gran Fondo World Series.

PRIZES:

A finisher's medal will be awarded to each participant when they cross the finish line. The item will not be sent by post at a later date.

The top three finishers in both the men's and women's categories for each distance (Long Distance and Middle Distance), as per the overall results, must attend the official trophy ceremony to collect their prizes and, where applicable, the corresponding gifts. Trophies and prizes not collected during the ceremony will not be sent by post at a later date.

2.3. – SPECIAL PRIZE IN KIND: "CLIMB TIME TRIAL RECORD - COLL DE RATES "

The Organisers are offering a special prize in kind, with an estimated maximum value of THREE THOUSAND EUROS (€3,000), for the participant who, during the event, beats the record time set in the official Coll de Rates time trial, currently standing at 11 minutes and 57 seconds (11'57'') and recorded by Tadej Pogačar.

The prize is subject to full compliance with the following mandatory requirements:

1. The prize will be awarded exclusively for the official Coll de Rates climb time trial; no other split times, alternative sections or records from personal devices will be accepted.
2. Only participants who complete the entire official race and cross the finish line within the official time limits set in accordance with UCI regulations and the specific rules of the event will be eligible for the prize.
3. The prize will be awarded exclusively to the participant who records the fastest valid time in the time trial. If more than one participant beats the record time, the prize will be awarded exclusively to the participant with the best time; the prize cannot be shared or exchanged for cash or any other form of financial compensation.
4. The only time that will be considered valid for the prize will be that recorded by the event's official timing system, which has been duly approved and validated by the Organisers.
5. The organisers expressly reserve the right to verify, inspect, validate and, where appropriate, invalidate results, as well as to declare the prize void should technical, sporting, regulatory, disciplinary or force majeure circumstances arise, without this giving rise to any right to claim.
6. The participant who wins the prize must not be subject to any sanction, suspension or disqualification for doping-related offences under the regulations of the UCI, the RFEC, the World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) or any other competent authority. The Organisers may also revoke the award of the prize if there are reasonable grounds for suspicion, ongoing proceedings or adverse analytical findings pending with regard to possible anti-doping violations.
7. The Organisers may make the final confirmation and award of the prize subject to any anti-doping tests, checks or procedures it deems appropriate. If a participant refuses to undergo such tests or checks, they will automatically forfeit their right to the prize.

Nature and taxation of the prize (residents and non-residents)

The prize will be in kind; there is no cash prize, and it is awarded as part of a cycling event organised in accordance with applicable regulations.

The prize will have an estimated maximum value of THREE THOUSAND EUROS (€3,000), which is to be understood as a gross amount and as the total financial limit of the prize. Where applicable, this limit includes the cost of the advance payment or legally required tax deduction, such that the value of the non-cash prize awarded to the winner will be the amount remaining after deducting the applicable tax liability from this limit.

For tax purposes, the prize in kind will be treated as a capital gain and will be subject to taxation in accordance with current Spanish tax legislation, both for participants who are tax residents in Spain and for non-residents; where applicable, it will be subject to personal income tax (IRPF) or non-resident income tax (IRNR).

Under no circumstances will the winner receive any advance payment of the prize or any sum of money in connection with it.

Where applicable and where legally required, the organisers will make the relevant payment on account to the tax authorities, with no financial impact on the winner and without this giving rise to any entitlement to payment.

The prize cannot be substituted, exchanged or redeemed for cash.

The actual award of the prize will be subject to the winner providing the required tax and administrative documentation in due time and in the prescribed manner, including, where applicable, proof of their tax residence.
